About this product

Faulding[®] PMS Relief with Curcumin was formulated for the symptomatic relief of premenstrual tension or PMS. It contains Vitex agnus-castus (Chaste tree), which is traditionally used in herbal medicine to support healthy menstruation and cycle regularity and to assist with normalising heavy or irregular periods. In traditional herbal medicine, Chaste tree is also used for mild pain in the breast related to menstrual complaints. Faulding[®] PMS Relief with Curcumin contains the antioxidant Curcumin, which may assist in protecting the cells in the body from oxidative damage.
