About this product

Faulding® Remedies Muscle Therapy contains nutrients, which are required for energy production and assist in protecting the body from the damaging effects of free radicals. Magnesium is involved in over 300 essential metabolic reactions and plays a vital role in the body. It is necessary for proper muscle and nerve function, maintaining the normal healthy functioning of the nervous system and is beneficial during times of stress. Vitamin C is essential for the proper function of the immune system, while chromium facilitates the uptake of glucose into the cells. Faulding® Remedies Muscle Therapy contains nutrients to support healthy cardiovascular function and general health and wellbeing.
